WEDDING OF JAMES N. WYVELL AND MRS. BERTHA MELLIN SOCIETY EVENT

(Communicated)

Of more than passing interest was the modest announcement of the marriage of James N. Wyvell and Mrs. Bertha E. Mellin, as it united the lives and the fortunes of two of the best known as well as most highly esteemed residents of the northern section of Glendale. This happy event was solemnized at the home of the bride, 1124 North Brand boulevard, Wednesday evening, in the presence of only the immediate members of the families of the bride and groom.

The various rooms of the bride's home were tastefully and artistically decorated in white carnations, white chrysanthemums and ferns.

Amid this bower of beauty and fragrance the impressive double ring ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal church was performed by Rev. C. R. Norton, a very dear friend of the bride and groom.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white satin, with trimmings of tulle and orange blossoms, and carried an arm bouquet of beautiful bride roses. Mrs. Gilbert F. Wyvell, sister-in-law of the groom, attended as matron of honor and wore a becoming gown of white crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of white roses. Mr. Wyvell was attended by his brother, Gilbert F. Wyvell. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Miss Eleanor Mellin, daughter of the bride, the wedding party entered and assumed their places beneath the flower-decked bower. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert F. Wyvell; Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Wyvell, the former the son of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Vern Wright, the latter the daughter of the groom; Mrs. Rose Booker, all of Los Angeles; Miss Eleanor Mellin, Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burt of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyvell will spend a portion of their honeymoon at Catalina and other places of interest in Southern California. After November 10th they will be at home to their many friends at 1124 North Brand boulevard, Glendale.

Mrs. Wyvell, who is a native of Springfield, Illinois, came to Glendale about fifteen years ago with her husband, the late N. J. Mellin, a retired merchant of Springfield, who passed away a few years since. Mrs. Wyvell is talented, highly accomplished and an active worker in church and benevolent societies. Mr. Wyvell located in Glendale fourteen years ago. He purchased property on North Brand, where he engaged in the real estate and insurance business; he was also business manager for the late Mr. Mellin, having become so shortly after the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Mellin in Glendale. Aside from Mr. Wyvell's activities in church and philanthropic work of every character, he is closely identified with the various branches of the Masonic bodies; is Past Worshipful Master of his former lodge, F. and A. M., Chicago, and is at present Worthy Patron of Glen Eyrre Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyvell's friends, and they are legion, are expressing their congratulations and best wishes.

GLENDALE THEATRE OPENING

SOUTHLAND'S BEAUTY AND CHIVALRY ASSEMBLED IN GLENDALE THURSDAY EVENING FOR THE DEDICATION OF DR. AND MRS. GOODNO'S WONDERFUL NEW PLAYHOUSE, THE GLENDALE THEATRE, UNDER THE MANAGEMENT OF WM. A. HOWE.

Anticipation

Not only a large number of the representative people of Glendale, but also many interested friends from all over the Southland responded to Manager Howe's invitation to the formal opening of Glendale Theatre last evening.

Fully an hour before the doors were opened, the expectant audience formed a line a block long. Two good-natured police officers tried to keep a clear passage way along that portion of Brand Boulevard, but the crowd, equally good natured and twice as persistent, continued to stand two and three and even four abreast, until a quarter past seven, when the doors were thrown open to them. Many were the exclamations of surprise and delight at the beauty of the scene that greeted their eyes.

First Impression

Did you ever look back wistfully to the days when you were only 'bout ten years old, and lived in a world totally unknown to the grown-ups about you, a world all your own.

where you wandered with Harun-Al-Rashid, and Shehera-zade and her sister, Dinar-zade, and Ali Baba, and Sindbad the Sailor, and Aladdin, and all the other delightful creations of the Arabian Nights, that most fantastic, magnificent, extravagant, beautiful, humorous and gloriously colorful of all books?

And didn't all these old dream-figures come trooping back to greet you last night, the moment you stepped inside the Glendale Theatre? You wondered just a moment, perhaps, what Genie evoked these loved old friends from out the past, but of course, the program was so interesting and you were so engrossed in admiring the beauty of the theatre and recognizing friends among the great concourse of distinguished guests, that naturally you didn't stop to marvel how these denizens of story-book land stepped once more from out the covers of "The Thousand and One Nights."

The Secret Discovered

But The News discovered the Ge-

nie. He's a modern Genie, and he's versed in all the latest magic, which is much more potent than that of his brothers in the Arabian Nights. Next time you visit the Glendale Theatre, you will notice that all the interior effects, the plaster treatments, the textures and decorations are of ancient futuristic design. That's the magic of the up-to-date Genie, the magic that reminds you of the soft-toned but gloriously colorful, humorous, beautiful, extravagant, magnificent, fantastic settings of the tales of the Arabian Nights; for all these adjectives appropriately describe the interior effects of the Glendale Theatre. You gaze upward at the fantastic figures on the ceiling, and you wonder whether they're symbolic; your eyes wander to the side-walls, paneled by pilasters of soft-toned, neutral hues, richly decorated in black and gold; you trace figures on the shafts of the pilasters that seem to be echoes of Egyptian art, while above these you make out queer birds facing each other, and at the

PUBLIC REQUEST

Glendale, Calif., Oct. 29, 1920. To the Merchants, Especially, and General Public of Glendale: Mr. W. F. Tower of Glendale, without my permission, knowledge, or consent used my business cards to write upon, and advertise a Randall meeting, held at the Glendale Post-Office yesterday and I now call upon Mr. Tower to publicly state through the columns of this newspaper by what authority he used said business cards, and his motive, and object of so doing, as it is generally known, and understood by my friends and the public in general, that I am a Republican, an active worker, and supporter of Mr. Charles F. Van de Water, the Republican nominee for Congress from the 9th Congressional district, and the entire Republican ticket from top to bottom.

Signed JOHN MacGREGOR.

Regrets Leaving

Dominic Ruggiero, who recently sold the Glendale Restaurant to Andrew Williams, has been enjoying a much needed rest, and has just bought a restaurant in Fullerton. In fact, Mr. Ruggiero bought two restaurants in one day, one in Fullerton, the other in Anaheim. The latter he re-sold before he had really completed its purchase, and the one in Fullerton he could have sold the next day.

Mr. Ruggiero says he sold out here only because he needed rest, and regrets very much leaving Glendale where he and his family have resided for over five years.

Walter N. Stamps and wife, who recently sold their home at 204 West Lomita avenue, will move the first of the week to 436 West Colorado. They moved a four-room house to this lot, added a sleeping porch and other conveniences and made it a very cozy home.

WILSON ENDORSES DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

PRESIDENT EXPRESSES CONFIDENCE IN GOVERNOR COX IN LETTER PREDICTING HIS ELECTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—President Wilson today sent a letter to Governor Cox warmly endorsing the Democratic campaign and predicting the election of Cox. The letter follows:

My Dear Governor Cox: As the campaign approaches a climax I want to give myself the pleasure of writing to say with what admiration I have followed the course of this campaign. You have spoken truly and fearlessly about the great issues at stake and I believe you will receive the emphatic endorsement of the voters of the country. As one of these voters and as your fellow citizen I want to express my entire confidence in you and the confident hope that under your leadership we may carry the policy of national government forward along the path of liberal legislation and reform until the whole world again sees an illustration of wholesome strength in Democracy and the happy fruits of what the fathers of this republic purposed when they set this government up.

Your gratified and loyal supporter,
WOODROW WILSON.

MAC SWINEY CASKET SEIZED BY THE POLICE

MOURNERS PRESENT WOEBEGONE APPEARANCE UPON ARRIVAL AT DUBLIN, IRELAND

DUBLIN, Oct. 29.—Mourners for Terence MacSwiney arrived here at 9 o'clock today without the casket with which they left London last night. The casket was seized by military and police at Holy Head and was taken by boat to Cork.

Most of the mourners, including MacSwiney's sister Annie and his brother John, presented a woebegone appearance upon their arrival, following a sleepless night and minor injuries received in the battle with police when MacSwiney's body was seized.

Dublin, disappointed that the body will not lie in state as planned, was preparing for a funeral procession with all business suspended.

Seizure of the casket followed orders of Sir Hamar Greenwood, Irish secretary, who reported that landing at Dublin might lead to a political demonstration.

REPUBLICAN RALLY

BIG PARADE AND STREET MEETING SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Republican forces of Glendale will show their colors tomorrow afternoon in a big parade under the auspices of the Glendale Republican Club. The parade will form at 3:30 at Orange street and Lexington drive and will be led by the Glendale Post American Legion band, of twenty pieces.

Banners and pictures for decorating machines may be secured at Republican Headquarters, 114 East Broadway, and all Republicans who own automobiles are asked to participate in this parade. Those who do not have machines are invited also and will be provided for.

Special provision is being made for members of the G. A. R., many of whom have already signified their intention of taking part in the parade. Before disbanding at Orange and Broadway the crowd will be addressed by Senator Samuel H. Piles of the State of Washington who will speak on the critical issues of the day.

It will simplify matters for the committee in charge if those who intend to participate in this parade will phone Mrs. E. W. Hayward, secretary, at Republican Headquarters, Glendale 535.

Patterson Avenue

The City Trustees have passed an ordinance delaying until February 5, 1921, the time in which an action for the condemnation of property to be used in the laying out and opening of Patterson avenue can be filed in the Superior Court. Property must be condemned at both ends of the present Patterson avenue, on the east from Central avenue to Brand, taking in 60 feet wide across two blocks and Orange street. The partition required between Central avenue and Orange is vacant, but on that between Orange and Brand is a valuable new 7-room residence and two garages. The west extension, from the new park to the junction of Grand View avenue and San Fernando Road, where it merges into the latter, is across acreage only, with no houses in the way.

Making Progress

A. L. Baird, one of the directors of the new Glendale Research hospital, reports that work on the building is progressing satisfactorily. The hollow tile walls are practically all in place and the plumbing and electrical wiring are well under way. The roof is being put on so that the rains will not interfere with the work of construction. It is possible now to secure as many workmen as can be used to advantage so there will be no delay on that account.

"This hospital is a big partnership affair," said Mr. Baird, "because between 175 and 180 Glendale families are holders of stock which is all common stock." There will be a meeting of the Board of Directors Monday evening.

EMINENT JURIST, PROMINENT ATTORNEYS AND MANY OTHERS APPEAL TO THE VOTERS

An eminent jurist of Los Angeles, in discussing the candidacy of Hartley Shaw, said:

"It is of supreme public importance that Hartley Shaw should be elected Judge of the Superior Court. Should he fail of election it would be a great misfortune."

We fully agree with this statement and urge every voter to go to the polls on Tuesday next and vote for Hartley Shaw.

SOUTH GLENDALE

SPIRIT OF PROGRESS INDICATED BY IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS STARTED

An encouraging sign of progress in Glendale is the interest taken by citizens in all parts of the city in working for improvements in the street system. Movements were started several weeks ago for the extension of Park avenue east to Adams and Garfield avenue east to Verdugo Road and now a project has been instituted to have Sycamore Canyon boulevard extended south and southwest from its present terminus between Windsor Road and the prolongation of Acacia Ave. to a junction with Brand on Cypress Ave. This was a part of the original plan of several years ago when the campaign was started to extend Sycamore Canyon Road south across the eastern part of the city as an outlet for the storm waters of the canyon, a cross-town boulevard and a right-of-way for a P. E. loop. The paving of Sycamore Canyon boulevard has been ordered by the trustees. If the extension to Brand now being advocated goes through the completed boulevard will be a valuable link between Verdugo Road and Brand through a section of the city that now has no such connection.

It is pleasing to note this spirit of progress in the residents of South Glendale.

Must Live in Glendale

While there is no lack of large and costly as well as medium-sized residences of modern construction in Glendale, many smaller ones are being erected by families of moderate means who, unable to rent and determined to live in Glendale, have bought lots and are putting up two and three-room houses as temporary expedients, meaning to build more comfortable and commodious residences in the future. Permits were taken out yesterday for three 3-room residences, one at 1110 North Louise for Rex C. Kelley, the new Y. M. C. A. District Secretary, who is living now at 320 East Lomita avenue; another for Mrs. Stitzenburger at 408 West California avenue, and the third at 326 North Kenwood for J. K. Gilkerson.

Third Football Game

The Glendale High School football team will play its third league game of the season this afternoon, its opponent being the strong team of Pasadena High. Glendale has won both games played and hopes to add another scalp to its belt on this occasion. The game is to be played on the home grounds and the rooters will be out in full force.

MR. THOMAS QUERIES

PROPOUNDS SEARCHING QUESTIONS ON POSTOFFICE MATTER TO MR. RANDALL

Dear Mr. Editor:

Going back to yesterday when Congressman Randall accompanied by Assistant Postmaster Foster and others, met a delegation of our citizens at the Glendale Postoffice, these questions were asked:

1st. "Mr. Randall, something like four years ago Mr. Burleson, the Postmaster General at Washington, wired you that an order had been made establishing a postoffice in Glendale, the order to take effect January 1, 1917, and you made its contents known to the people. Is that true?"

Answer: "Yes."

2nd. "Then why did we not get it?"

Answer: "It was discovered later that it could only be done by an Act of Congress."

Now, then, but two conclusions can be drawn:

Either Mr. Burleson who for four years had been a member of Mr. Wilson's Cabinet and as Postmaster General had been at the head of the Postoffice Department of the Government, during which time thousands of postoffices had been established, did not know the rules and laws governing his office, and Mr. Randall who had been making a study of how to get it established was also in the dark; or

If they did know, then Mr. Randall, with the aid of the Postmaster General, deliberately fooled the citizens of Glendale.

Which conclusion is most logical? Very respectfully yours,
LEE THOMAS,
123 N. Brand.

COLUMBUS AVENUE

PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION HOLDS REGULAR OCTOBER MEETING

The Columbus Avenue P.-T. A. held its October meeting at the schoolhouse Thursday afternoon with an unusually large attendance.

Committee reports showed active work being done in all lines of the association's activities and the president, Mrs. H. V. Henry, was very glad to be able to announce that the hot lunches would be served, beginning Monday, November 1st.

The members present expressed much interest and a spirit of co-operation in promoting the work of the association and in increasing the membership. They also put themselves on record as heartily in favor of the proposed Civic Center for Glendale.

The program of the afternoon had been prepared by Mrs. Peckham and was opened by Mrs. W. L. Andrews, who sang a very pleasing solo, followed by Mrs. E. H. Weston, who also favored the audience with a delightful vocal selection. The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Jenkins, a representative of the Woman's Legislative Council and State Lecturer for the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Jenkins reviewed very carefully the twenty amendments to be voted on at the election next Tuesday.

HOUSES FILLED

MANY RESIDENCES ACCOMMODATE TWO OR MORE FAMILIES

A study of the work turned in by the city directory enumerators reveals the fact that not only is practically every habitable house in the city (and many that would not have been considered habitable a year ago) occupied but that many formerly accommodating one family only now have two, three and sometimes four families. Also many rooms in private houses are rented to people, both men and women, who are here working at steady jobs and who intend to be permanent residents. The only houses vacant are those the owners wish to sell quickly or that are undergoing repairs. Hundreds of new houses are noted, in all stages from a simple foundation to a nearly completed building. And another thing noted is that few if any people able to work are idle. Young women are teaching, clerking, book-keeping and the like, young men are in all sorts of occupations and old men are raising fine gardens. Glendale is a city of workers as well as a city of homes.

Common Sense

The first of the proposed measures on the November ballot is the "Alien Land Law." Before voting on it November 2, we ask you to consider these facts:

☐ The population of California is 3,426,526 of which only 2.2 per cent are Japanese. In 1919 more white children were born in the state than the total of Japanese births for the ten years preceding.

☐ California should not be placed in the position of 97.8 per cent of her population being in fear of 2.2 per cent.

☐ In the last ten years our population increased 1,058,987. It was a 44.1 per cent increase, while that of the whole United States was only 14 per cent. Does that look like the state is being destroyed by its 2.2 per cent Japanese?

☐ Our food supply is not keeping up with the increase of population. The first seven months of this year we did not produce enough to feed our own people; imports of food increased $1,500,000,000.

☐ Why expel the Japanese farmers who raised $67,000,000 worth of food last year?

☐ To persecute them off the land will make the shortage of farm labor more acute, put thousands of acres out of cultivation, reduce our food supply and inflict economic injury to the State.

☐ Japanese labor on land is non-competitive. It gets the highest farm wages paid in the world. This initiative will drive it from non-competitive labor on land to competitive labor in the cities, where it consumes but no longer produces food. This change is equally injurious to city labor and to the consumers of food. This view was taken by the Labor Councils of Stockton and Sacramento in resolutions opposing "the removal of the Oriental from land to the industries."

☐ Japan permits a corporation, though composed entirely of non-Japanese, to own in fee simple all the land it can buy. It also allows alien individuals to lease land of any kind for fifty years, and to acquire superficies for unlimited period. Yet Initiative No. 1 denies this reciprocal right to a handful of Japanese in California.

☐ Foreigners in Japan by concessions in perpetuity own with improvements land worth many millions on which they do not even pay taxes. Yet Initiative No. 1 seeks to deny the industrious Japanese in California the human right of even leasing land for productive purposes.

☐ Much has been said of the Japanese law which claims the allegiance of Japanese born in America. French law claims a child born abroad of French parents as a French citizen, subject, if a male, to military service the moment he enters French jurisdiction. Switzerland, Italy, Greece and Germany have similar laws.

☐ Japan is more liberal than these countries, for she allows a child born abroad of Japanese parents to relinquish allegiance to Japan at any time before the age of 17.

☐ Our National Government alone has power to settle all international questions. We look to Eastern Asia for expansion of our trade. These anti-Japanese movements, and the vituperation and abuse by agitators, and this initiative, do not represent Americanism. They disgrace and embarrass our National Government. Why do it, and injure ourselves at the same time?

☐ Our Secretary of Commerce reports that in the eight months, ending August 31, this year, we sold our goods to Asia and Oceania as follows:

To Dutch East Indies	$ 34,995,550
To China	96,311,017
To Australia	73,054,230	$ 331,195,036
To British India	65,744,078
To The Philippines	61,090,161
To Japan		$ 328,663,681

☐ Japan bought of us within $2,531,355 as much as all Asia and Oceania combined. Is it wise to alienate that commerce by mistreating the Japanese in California?

☐ Vote NO on Initiative No. 1 on November 2.

Women Must Think

Now I will have to give you some conclusions of my own, against which, it is only fair to warn you, most of the political writers are opposed. You are to remember, however, that politics has always been a man's world, and that most of the thinking that is done in it is done by men. But if women are to justify their entrance into politics, it must be with the idea that woman thinking is equally important. And I have not been able to agree with the economic basis theory. At least, I think economics has been given undue importance in shaping society, and I think that is what is the matter with society today.

If economics—that is, food, clothing and housing—were the great shaping force, society would have been shaped long ago. Among the bees and the ants, food and shelter are the important items. These problems were settled very early in bee and ant society—settled so perfectly that nobody can think of a way to improve them—so many thousand years ago that nobody but the scientists can so much as guess how long ago it was. Now, if economics were all men had to think of, they would have settled it perfectly also. As a matter of fact, there have been many economic adjustments of society which answered perfectly for a time.—Mary Austin in Success.

Paints Royalty

It was because when he was a sign painter he was a good sign painter that Seymour M. Stone came to be a painter of royalty and of the great people of Europe and America. His career is a perfect exemplification of the old copy-book axiom of the sure reward that comes from doing well the duty that lies nearest to one's hand. A collection of his paintings was shown a few weeks ago in the famous Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington, and there still are wagons being hauled about the streets of Chicago that bear the faint marks of his brush. Seymour Stone was born in Chicago, one of five children in a family that knew the pinch of poverty. At the age of ten the boy was forced to shoulder part of the burden of supporting himself and the other children. He alone of the five manifested artistic ability; and, as the nearest approach to the ambition that was nearest his heart, he got a job as a wagon painter at 50 cents a day. In the meantime he spent his evenings at an art school, working far into the night. Finally he went to Europe and now, after fifteen years' absence, Seymour Stone returns to his native land with the reputation of being one of the greatest living portrait painters. Among those who sat for him was the Princess Marie Alexandra Reuss of Brandenburg, a descendant of Catherine the Great; Princess Wittgenstein of Bavaria, sister-in-law of the Queen of the Belgians; the Viscount de Faramond and Viscountess de Faramond and their son; Admiral Richelieu, and many others.

Oaken Timbers

Men employed in driving a new gallery in a gold mine at Charlotte Plains, in Victoria, Australia, have made an astonishing discovery. At a depth of three feet below ground they have come upon pieces of timber, perfectly preserved, which have every appearance of having been sawn and shaped by the hand of man.

This timber lies in the bed of an ancient river now being worked for gold, and the timber is oak. Now oak has the peculiar property of lasting for centuries when buried in water or wet sand. Oak piles have been taken out from under old wooden bridges constructed by the Romans and found as sound as when they were put there, nearly two thousand years ago.

Oak, known as bog oak, is found buried in peat bogs and is perfectly black, intensely hard and very valuable.

At present there is an absolute famine in seasoned oak wood, but if we could suppress bolshevism and open up Russia to trade that famine would soon be ended. Just before the war it was discovered that the bed of the River Moksha, for a length of over 400 miles, is simply full of magnificent old oak trees bedded in sand.

The river is shallow and broad, and the oak can easily be raised. As a matter of fact, a company was being formed to work these wonderful deposits when war intervened.

Small deposits are found in England. There is a pool in the River Dart, known from time immemorial as Oak pool, in the bottom of which are masses of fine old oak. The strange thing is that there are no oak trees near the spot at present.—Vancouver Sun.

Gambling games were prohibited by the early Romans.

"This is rather a curiosity," remarked an artist who was entertaining a lady in his studio. As he spoke he produced a small but exquisite painting. "It is nice!" gushed his visitor. "I was out in the country one day," he went on, "and had all my materials with me except a canvas. But I was so keen on painting this scene that I took out my handkerchief, laid it upon my case, and painted the picture." "Dear me!" exclaimed the lady. Then a look of horror came over her face as she went on: "But you'll never be able to wash all that paint out of it."

Gama, the Brazilian diplomat, began his career as a newspaper correspondent.

WOOLEN FABRICS

S. BERMAN SAYS HE HAS LARG-EST LINE AND BEST VALUES SINCE BEFORE WAR

S. Berman says he has the best line of woollen fabrics for his fall and winter trade that he has had since before the war. Mr. Berman has been making suits for Glendale men for more than ten years and in order to please his large clientele always puts in a large and varied stock of fabrics for his trade. Naturally he is pleased that he is able to make so good a showing this fall, and that he will be able to give his customers good value.

Mr. Berman has been here long enough to have proved his efficiency and his dependability as a tailor for men who know the value of dressing well. Men who have worn Berman-Made suits for years know that they can depend on Berman.

An honest man may find his life monotonous at times, but he need not dodge every time a policeman turns the corner.

Nearly every man knows that he is not so much better than other folks, but he is not always willing to admit it.

The Next President.

As certain as anything can be, in this world, is the election of Senator Harding.

To readers of this newspaper, the many family groups to which it comes a regular welcome visitor, Senator Harding's face shines as that of a friend.

Senator Harding, your next President, is your kind of man. You see him, hear a few words, and you know it.

He was born in a small town, has lived there all his life, lives there now, and will live there again when he leaves the White House with his work for the country done.

He lives as you live, simply, in the old fashioned American way.

Millions of men, believing in this country, devoted to its government, SATISFIED with the UNITED STATES, believe that the United States is able to deal with its own problems, and settle its own questions free from outside assistance or interference.

Those millions of men are men of the same sort as Senator Harding.

What Kind of Man.

Harding is a big American in physical size, thanks to vigorous farming ancestors. He is a big American also in heart, in understanding, in sympathy and in simplicity.

You read his speeches and know that he does not imagine himself created to tell all the world what to do. He believes in, and he understands the American people, his friends, the citizens of his own little town, Marion, Ohio, and the dwellers in thousands of other towns like it.

After you have elected him, you will find in Senator Harding an earnest, conscientious, straight thinking servant of the people, not an autocrat, but a man respecting the traditions of American government, and the Constitution of the United States.

Senator Harding understands that the people will elect him to be President of the United States, not President of the whole world. He will know that he is employed by the PEOPLE of this country to look after the interests of THIS country.

Born on a farm, living all his life close to farmers, he knows and sympathizes with the problems of the farm. Living in the average American way, in the average American small town, he knows the problems of the average American. He understands the printers he employs, and he knows their trade and sets type as they do.

His Ambition.

Senator Harding has no ambition to be called a political superman, or RULER of America.

Like Senator Harding, both COOLIDGE and SHORTRIDGE came from the soil—the one from New England and the other from the West. Both have carried with them into public careers the homely virtues of life as they apply both to the individual and community contentment.

SAMUEL M. SHORTRIDGE, as farmer, blacksmith, teacher, lawyer has succeeded for the reason that no faults of training or thinking have kept him from the forward-looking path of the truly sincere and big American.

SHORTRIDGE knows California and her problems. He knows the Nation's problems in this time of war's reconstruction.

SHORTRIDGE will lose no time in applying himself in the Senate to these problems. He will support Harding and Harding will support Shortridge and California.

HARDING-COOLIDGE-SHORTRIDGE—Three men of today most like most other Americans. They are California's kind of men—they are America's kind of men.

We must have a complete change in the Administration at Washington!

ELECT HARDING—COOLIDGE—SHORTRIDGE

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE

DIRECTORY WORK

CITIZENS CO-OPERATING WITH ENUMERATORS—WRONG IM- PRESSIONS DISPELLED

Some of the residents of Casa Verdugo and North Glendale, when approached by the enumerators for the new directory objected to giving their names, saying they were not in Glendale and had no wish to appear in a Glendale directory. It is not the intention to count any but those actually within the city limits of Glendale as residents. In the enumeration totals the population of Glendale will be given and also that of Casa Verdugo, just as was done last time. It is the wish of the Evening News in publishing this directory to not only list as correctly as possible the names and locations of all the residents of Glendale and its suburbs but also to ascertain and record the actual population of the city proper.
So the Evening News requests that its directory enumerators be given the information they ask, promising that only those living within the city limits will be counted in giving the total of Glendale's population.

The enumerators are now working on the north and south streets and in a very few days will have covered the entire city. They have met with the most kindly treatment in their visits and the fullest of co-operation. We trust that this will continue so that not one name may be missed or spelled wrongly.

Citizenship Training

The State Board of Education has recently made the completion of a one year course in American history and civics a requirement for graduation from high school.

The legislature passed a law (1919) requiring all persons under twenty-one years of age, over compulsory school age, who cannot read, write and speak English as is required of pupils of sixth grade of elementary schools, to attend evening school for four hours a week and for thirty-six weeks each year, if they reside within three miles of a high school. A course in citizenship for such pupils is required.

A part-time education law was passed requiring all youths under eighteen, not attending full-time schools, to attend part time classes four hours a week for thirty-six weeks each year, provided they reside within three miles of a high school maintaining part time courses.
Included in the part time course is a course in citizenship. High school districts having fifty or more youths subject to part time education, are required to establish part time courses.

A course in citizenship is required in all elementary schools.

The compulsory education law, amended 1919, requires all private schools of elementary grade to be taught in English; a course in citizenship is required.

An assistant superintendent of public instruction, in charge of Americanization work and community organization, has been appointed. A plan of co-operation between the State Department of Education, State Commission of Immigration and Housing and the Extension Division of the University of California for Americanization and community organization has been worked out. About 1000 adults have taken special intensive courses in these subjects, arranged under this co-operative plan. Most of these have been teachers and are preparing for Americanization work.

In co-operation with the Federal government, we have undertaken the organization of a program of thrift education.

The employment of aliens as teachers, except those who have declared their intention to become citizens, has been forbidden by law since 1890. Since 1919, we have required all candidates for the teachers' certificate to take an oath of allegiance to the United States.

Hard-Worked Teachers

Twenty years of observation of the school works in our state warrants the conclusion that the poorest results are obtained by the teachers who do the hardest work. It is literally true. The talkative instructor does not as a rule obtain good results. He himself makes an excellent recitation. Often the rain of talk falls continuously for forty minutes. The children soon learn to provide themselves with umbrellas.

The torrent does not come nigh them.
Such well-meaning teachers need strict supervision and prompt warning. The rain of talk needs to be accompanied by a little thunder or even perhaps a small earthquake. Usually, to be sure, such a shock produces no more effect upon the teacher than a local quake does upon a Los Angeles newspaper. But if the thunder and quake do not accomplish their object, then let the lightning strike!

Included in the group of hard-worked teachers is the one who sits up through the midnight hours with a blue pencil and a pile of student "compositions." The next morning the papers bearing the largest amount of color go into the wastepaper basket whither the poor teacher feels as if she would like to follow. She should have saved some of the pencil for herself.

If she would only remember that her success is greatest when she succeeds in getting the student to "learn by doing!"

Then, too, there is the teacher who believes that the best way to teach science in a laboratory is to perform the experiment himself, so that it will be well done; similar to this type is the manual training instructor or the sewing teacher who insists upon "finishing up" a child's product so that there will be few rough edges visible. His idea seems to be that he is nearing truth by making the object more like the ideal image on which it is patterned, when as a matter of fact he is telling the world that that joint product is the work of the child.

Good supervision will point out these fond delusions. Where is the supervisor? Probably in the office doing a bit of clerical work which a high school graduate on a modest salary could probably do much better than he.

a friend observed. "Stan' it," Henry replied. "Mah goodness, dat's jes what Ah couldn't do nothin' else but."

Californians!

Again we face the menace of the single tax. Again are half baked theorists attempting to tamper with the finances of this state. And again, as we have done five times before, must we "go to the bat" to protect our property and business interests.

Vote "NO" on Amendment No. 20 (SINGLE TAX)

This election we have a chance to do more than just defeat the single tax. We can defeat continuous agitation of the subject.

Let's put an end to faddists tampering with taxation once for all.

Vote "YES" on Amendment No. 4

This amendment is placed on the ballot with the sole purpose of preventing faddists from tampering with the assessment and collection of taxes every two years.

It does not affect the initiative, except in reference to taxes. It does not affect initiative measures that have to do with proposed bond issues that are put up by the initiative.

It is solely for the purpose of preventing California from being made the dumping ground for all the freak laws which have failed elsewhere.

THEATRE OPENING

base are still more fantastic shapes; and again the adjectives that describe so well the Arabian Nights echo in your mind: colorful, humorous, beautiful, extravagant, magnificent. Almost you hear Dinar-zade addressing Schehera-zade: "My dear sister, I entreat you to relate to me one of those delightful tales which you know."

In truth, the similitude between the tales told by Schehera-zade and the program unfolded for our entertainment at such a motion picture house as the Glendale Theatre goes deeper. The grand vizier's daughter, by the fascination of the tales of the "Thousand and One Nights," kept winning one more day's lease of life for herself; the entertainment offered by a metropolitan show house like the Glendale Theatre rests and re-creates one, actually winning for us a longer lease of life.

Having filled all of the 1251 seats in the house some time before the hour set for the program's opening, the audience had an opportunity to notice the comfort of the well-spaced orchestra chairs, so arranged that the line of vision is between the heads of those in front; to admire the rich, harmonious draperies, to study the faultless taste in every detail of the decorations, and to enjoy the beautiful lighting effects.

The Program

Promptly at a quarter past eight, the Glendale Theatre orchestra opened the program with Sousa's stirring "Stars and Stripes Forever." Clarence Buzek, formerly of the Perera Sextette, has been engaged as musical director. This number was followed by Mr. F. Brooks Cole, baritone, who sang the prologue from Pagliacci. Mr. Cole's rich, pure tones and dramatic interpretation won instant favor, and he graciously responded to an encore.

Mr. William A. Howe, lessee and manager of the theatre was received with applause when he stepped out on the stage. He welcomed his guests and explained in a modest, unassuming manner that it was his ambition to make the atmosphere of his theatre restful and recreative; that to him this seemed as important a function of a theatre as to entertain. He expressed his appreciation of Glendale's past board of trustees in making Brand Boulevard second to none in Southern California, and his thanks to the present board of trustees for changing their meeting from Thursday night to Wednesday this week, in honor of the opening of Glendale Theatre. He expressed pleasure at the presence of so many of his friends among the motion picture fraternity, about 150 of whom had come to do him honor and wish him success. Mr. Howe spoke of the confidence Dr. and Mrs. Goodno had shown in Glendale, when, after a fourteen years' residence in Pasadena, the paradise of the world, they invested their money here in this magnificent theatre.

Loud applause greeted his mention of Mrs. Goodno, who arose and bowed her acknowledgement of the compliment. Mr. Howe then introduced Dr. Goodno, who paid tribute to Glendale's marvelous growth and gave reasons for his concrete evidence of faith in our city's future development. Dr. Goodno explained that as far as possible, local men were chosen to aid in the development of his idea of a theatre, and his choice in each instance had been a most happy one, he said. Alfred F. Priest, the architect, Mr. Goodno characterized as an energetic man, attentive to duty, considerate of the interest of his clients and a loyal helper in the direction and development of this beautiful playhouse. Dr. Goodno praised the persistence and capability of Roy Kent, of the firm of Chas. W. Kent & Son, Glendale contractors, who, in spite of the serious economic conditions that hamper and harass work at this time, always maintained his equanimity and brought the work to completion on schedule time. Dr. Goodno also spoke of the decorating, which is the work of Martin Syvertson of Los Angeles, a real artist, who dreams dreams and makes them come true. The splendid foremen whose brains helped to make the building a complete success came in for their share of appreciation, too. Dr. Goodno, in closing, dedicated the Glendale Theatre to the people of Glendale and Southern California, for their moral uplift and their education.

Words of welcome and congratulation were also spoken by Hartley Shaw, president of Glendale's board of trustees; "Uncle Bill" Haas, advertising manager of the Shrine Theatre, Pasadena, and Mayor Snyder, of Los Angeles. Mr. Shaw emphasized the growth of the motion picture industry, its great opportunities, its great influence on the impressionable mind of the child, and its consequent responsibility. Mr. Haas, in a terse, witty address, related that he overheard a lady, amazed at the beauty of the theatre as she entered, exclaim, "How could it be done!" And Mr. Haas replied, "That's easy; 'Howe' did it!" He said that Pasadena owed her Chamber of Commerce to Mr. Howe, for he organized it, and merged with it the board of trade; Pasadena now has a Chamber of Commerce noted for its civic work. Mayor Snyder said that strangers judge the prosperity of a town by the size and character of its theatres, and the intelligence of its people by its programs. A stranger applying this measure to Glendale, said the Mayor, would say that this is a growing, prosperous city of intelligent people.

Mr. Howe read telegrams of regret from several friends, among them Charles Ray.

Miss Marjorie Walls, coloratura soprano, sang "Ah, Fors' e lui," a Verdi aria. Miss Walls has a voice of great beauty and wonderful range. She sang "Annie Laurie" as an encore, and was presented with an armful of flowers. Mr. Cole's singing of "The Rosary" was a feature so much enjoyed that he was called back twice, giving as encores "On the Road to Mandalay" and "The Barefoot Trail." He, too, was honored with a huge bouquet. A comedy, the latest International News, and Dustin Farnum's "Big Happiness" were picture features, the last named being a pre-release showing, in honor of Glendale Theatre's opening.

"First, Last and Always," the last number on the program, emphasized the patriotic note with which the program began, the beautiful Star Spangled Banner unfolding as the curtain rose.

The Theatre Building

The Glendale Theatre building is a handsome brick structure of Italian-Spanish Renaissance type. It is 75 feet wide by 130 feet long. On either side of the spacious lobby is a small store room. The foyer and broad passage ways to the aisles of the audience room are carpeted in gray and black velvet carpet of striking design. The carpet in the aisles is of different pattern but the same colors.

The Lighting System

The lighting of the lobby is effected by four large electrolier standards, while in the lobby large lanterns of highly decorative type are used. The entire lighting of the theatre is effected by the indirect system, giving

Alfred F. Priest, Architect

ample light but eliminating the offensive glare. The lighting is on full control from both the operating booth and the stage and the entire system of wiring is through iron conduit, so that perfect safety is assured those handling the multitude of switches. Competent authorities declare Glendale Theatre to be the most scientifically lighted theatre in California. Aisle lights by a reflecting system illuminate the floor when the house is dark. Large lanterns at the proscenium are used for flood lights to curtains. A noteworthy feature is the emergency lighting system. This is a storage battery system by means of which the house may be lighted if the regular lighting service should fail.

Roy L. Kent, Contractor

Heating and Ventilation

Four large gas-fed furnaces and two thirty-six inch fans comprise the heating system, and two twin sets of seven-foot typhoon fans installed on the roof over the stage change the air in the theatre every two minutes. This is accomplished entirely without drafts, and is a system in use in many new theatres in the East.

Seating Advantages

The grade and spring lines of the floors are especially well placed for sight lines to the screen. Glendale Theatre has the greatest ground floor seating capacity of any theatre in Southern California.

The Stage

The proscenium arch is 34 feet, and the screen is 18½ feet by 22 feet. The stage scenery comprises seven or eight different settings.

RUTH ROLAND

CHARMING FILM ACTRESS TO BE IN GLENDAL

SUNDAY

Manager Howe, who is a personal friend of the famous film star, Ruth Roland, whom so many Glendale people know and admire, makes the welcome announcement that this lady will be at the Glendale Theatre in person on Sunday in connection with the showing of the first installment of a thrilling serial entitled "Ruth of the Rockies" in which this charming actress is starred. Miss Roland will be presented to the audience after the first show. Additional interest is lent to this event by the fact that some of the scenes of "Ruth of the Rockies" were filmed in and about Glendale.

Moves to New Quarters

The Glendale Plant and Floral Company is moving its display room to one of the two store rooms in the new Glendale Theatre building. When arrangements planned by Mr. Kelly, the proprietor, are completed, this will be a flower shop of which Glendale will be proud. Mr. Kelly promises that no florist's shop in Los Angeles will surpass it. An especially attractive window display and show room is being arranged, back of which will be the work room.

The firm's present show room adjoins the theatre building. As soon as the new show room is ready, the building now occupied will be moved off, and the nursery back of it will be moved to the front.

The draw curtains are of gold cloth with borders of tapestry effect and heavy fringe. The trevotine columns add much to the beauty of the stage. At the back, when the curtains are drawn, a Maxfield Parrish cyclorama is revealed. These details are some of the newer ideas in stage setting, developed by the Edwin H. Flag Scenic company, who had charge of the outfitting of the stage. Mr. Truman Curtis, of 421 Ivy street, designed and painted the scenery.

The Projection Room

The projection booth is pronounced by those who understand such things the equal of any in the best play houses in the country. Two Powers machines have been installed. The stereopticon and spotlights are on a 15 kilowatt generator.

The Organ

One little drop of disappointment in Manager Howe's overflowing cup of happiness last night was the fact that the organ was not ready. However, he read a telegram from the stage which said that the Estey Organ company of Battleboro, Vermont, was working night and day on it, and promised to install it by Christmas or before. It takes more than nine months to build this wonderful organ, which will be one of the largest theatre organs west of Denver, and the same as the one in the Capital Theatre in New York City, the largest theatre in the world.

The Glendale Theatre organ is a three-manual instrument, with echo chambers on the rear wall of the auditorium. The main organ chambers will be in the proscenium grill at either side of the stage. When it is installed it will be Glendale's proud boast that in the theatre bearing her name there is an organ that no theatre organ in the United States can surpass and few even equal.

Other Details

The exits at the stage end of the house lead direct to Maryland avenue through an eight-foot unobstructed passage. They are open at all times. Beneath the stage are dressing rooms.

Besides the projection booth, there are spacious and well appointed offices upstairs.

The ladies' retiring room is at the right of the foyer, as you enter, and the gentlemen's to the left.

The Ushers

A very pretty touch to the picture the theatre presented when the doors opened last night was added by the quaint costumes of the dainty maidens who have been appointed ushers. Their Chinese coats are of brocade of different colors, braided in gold; their head dress is a gold band with a rosette with a long tassel over the ear.

They were the finishing touch, these pretty little ushers, in their bright, rich garb, as they flitted up and down the aisles.

The apple is 84.6 water.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS

HARTLEY SHAW SPEAKS AT OPENING OF NEW GLENDAL

Hartley Shaw, president of the board of trustees of Glendale, welcomed the guests of the Glendale Theatre last evening on behalf of the City of Glendale. His speech, brief as it is, is fraught with food for thought. We publish it in full:

Ladies and Gentlemen: In behalf of the City of Glendale I am very glad to welcome you to this splendid building with its comfortable appointments, its harmonious and beautiful lighting effects, and its magnificent decorations. To those of you who are not residents of Glendale I would say that we in Glendale are very proud of our city. We think it is one of the finest places to live in in Southern California, and we hope that you will come out here some time in daylight when you can take a good look at it, and we believe then you will agree with us. We are fond of calling it a "City of Homes," and we welcome to it every institution which is suitable for such a city, including places for clean and wholesome amusement and entertainment, such as we expect this to be. We especially welcome this institution because it is, in all its physical features, so pervaded with the spirit of refinement and beauty that all who come here must be influenced by it. We believe that Glendale has a great future before it, and we are glad to have our opinion confirmed by the sober business judgment of the builders of this house who have come in here and proved their faith in a most solid and substantial way by investing their hard dollars. We congratulate them on their foresight and sagacity in choosing the fastest growing city in California as the place for their new enterprise, and we congratulate them on the artistic ability they have shown in providing here so perfect a setting for the display of that most artistic of modern arts—the motion picture.

The motion picture art has had a most remarkable career. Its growth is not equaled in the extent and rapidity by any modern instance, unless it be the automobile. It has a wonderful opportunity before it. It has the power to appeal to all our emotions, to arouse our passions, to develop the spiritual side of our nature. In fact, it is not too much to say that the future of our nation is very largely in its keeping, for it casts its spell upon our children in their young and impressionable years and holds up

Drug Store Vote

The straw vote conducted by the Rexall drug stores of the country is still attracting considerable attention. The statement of Chairman White of the Democratic committee that the trend from Harding to Cox began the first of this week and would gain great impetus in the closing days of the campaign naturally caused a closer daily inspection of the bulletins. But Mr. White's statement was not borne out by the vote as the trend seemed to be the other way. The states in which the vote for Cox predominated early in the week have 172 electoral votes but those carried by him up to yesterday's count showed only 152.

The person who saves a little money may some day have the laugh on those who call him a tightwad.

Any man usually has enough conscience left to do him good if he will let it operate.

before them standards of character, conduct and morality which must have an influence upon them throughout their lives. This great opportunity carries with it a great responsibility resting upon all connected with the production and exhibition of motion pictures to see to it that the influences which shall radiate from their work shall be for good and not for evil. In the confidence that those in charge of this enterprise will fully measure up to this responsibility we welcome them among us and wish them success.

New Electrical Shop

With the opening of Glendale's new theatre building, one of the most up-to-date electric shops will take its place among the other enterprising business houses of this city. A. G. Weidlich, recently discharged from the army as a captain following two years' service, has secured this excellent location in the theatre building and promises to carry one of the most dependable and attractive lines of electrical fixtures and home labor-saving devices on the market.

Dr. W. C. Goodno, owner of the building, has demanded the same quality of perfection in the preparation of the two stores within his building as he has demanded of the theatre itself. A very attractive display room will be arranged. Here the housewives of Glendale may have demonstrations of the latest and best home electrical conveniences which do so much to eliminate the drudgery of housework, and help to solve the problem of the scarcity of dependable help.

The public will be invited to attend the opening of the A. G. Weidlich Electric Shop in the near future, the date to be announced later in the News.

Many a person is weighed in the social scale and found to be either too light or too heavy.

The men who make freak election bets still have a few days to get into action.

THE BEST WAY TO LEARN

A company of important immigrant officials, welfare workers and business men, boarded the liner Adriatic well down New York harbor the other day, and accompanied the steerage passengers through Ellis Island, going through the full procedure to which the alien is subjected on arriving in this country.

The idea of the expedition was to obtain first hand information as to what is good and what is bad in the system for receiving the stranger into our land. It is believed that the results of the experiment will tend to make passage through Ellis Island more comfortable for the alien, and more efficient for the good of the country.

The only danger in such an attempt is that things which should be revealed will be glossed over in the presence of the abler folk, but the idea is the right one. The United States has acted too much upon theory and prejudice and too little upon intimate knowledge in handling the immigrant, with disastrous results all round. "The deaths ye have died, I have watched beside, and the lives that ye lived were mine," is the best known philosophy for understanding any people, or dealing with their problems intelligently.—Long Beach Telegram.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE PRAISES RANDALL'S RECORD

VAN DE WATER APPROVED BY ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

The Anti-Saloon League officially announces that both candidates for Congress in the 9th District are dry, and "each individual will vote as he or she pleases." Neither Randall nor Van de Water are endorsed, but the statement closes in this language: "Mr. Van de Water has a flawless record also both locally and officially as a dry worker and advocate." This frank statement on the part of the Anti-Saloon League should convince the most ardent dry Republican that it is his or her duty to vote for the Republican nominee, Mr. Charles F. Van de Water for Congress.—Adv. 4716

RETURN RANDALL TO CONGRESS

Not only dry, but experienced. An experienced chauffeur, bank clerk or manager is preferred to inexperienced men. Why not apply this safe rule in selecting a Congressman? Return Randall. "He knows the business of a Congressman." See display ad elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoedinghaus and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Thomas attended a masquerade dance given in Echo Park, Los Angeles, last evening.

Miss Frances Neth of Vancouver, B. C., who is spending the winter with her mother in Los Angeles, is the week-end guest of Miss Dorothy Hunt of 420 West Elk avenue.

R. B. Ray, who was formerly in the real estate business with A. J. Lucas, has branched out for himself and is located in Hal Davenport's old office at 1247 South Brand Boulevard.

R. M. Hermann, who came here from Galveston, Texas, last summer, bought a lot at 458 Hawthorne and built first a garage as a residence, then a 5-room house, has sold the place and moved to 137 South Columbus.

Clarence L. Kennedy, wife and daughter, Faith, are now occupying their two-story garage home erected on the rear end of their lot in the Childs tract, 517 East Lomita avenue. Mr. Kennedy is an employee of the telephone company.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Marchant, who formerly lived on Orange Grove Ave. but have been residents of Long Beach for the last three years, are spending a week or two with Miss Mary Carr Merritt of 210 South Louise.

He said that haughty and exclusive mule of his that resented the contact of a lowly Ford with his sacred person by kicking the machine to bits and injuring its driver, cost him $736, if the verdict in the damage suit instituted by the Ford's owner stands. He has appealed the case, however, and hopes to secure a reversal.

GLENDALE'S GROWTH

ITS WONDERFUL PROGRESS RECOGNIZED BY DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

Mayor Snyder of Los Angeles in his address last night at the opening of the new Glendale Theatre referred to Glendale as the fastest growing city in California, if not in the entire nation. Dr. Goodno said that after careful investigation as to the best place to invest their money he and his wife decided that Glendale, with its beautiful surroundings, its high class of citizenship and its wonderful growth was the ideal location, so they bought the lots and had erected the beautiful theatre that was being then dedicated. Manager W. A. Howe spoke along similar lines.

That all three of these gentlemen had ample justification for their eulogistic words is evidenced by the figures of Glendale's record in the last few months. With more than two and a half millions invested in new buildings since January 1, 1920, and more than one million in the two months of August and September, in a city of less than 20,000 population, there must be something unusual in the class of its citizenship, its location and surroundings to make such an addition to its housing facilities necessary. Certain it is that Glendale is almost as well known in many cities of the East, particularly the larger ones, as is Los Angeles, and the most of the people that come out to Los Angeles from the East want to see Glendale. And to see with many is to desire to locate here.

October of election year is always a quiet time in building and business operations, owing to the uncertainty regarding the future, but Glendale does not seem to have been affected by this as much as many other cities. Our building permits are far in excess of $300,000 and there is in sight to be commenced early next month nearly $75,000 worth of public and business buildings besides scores of new residences. The great number of garages hastily erected for temporary residence purposes and the many small houses constructed with the same idea in view testify to the intense desire of many new people to live in beautiful Glendale.

For more than three months past our city has had the most rapid growth of any place of its size in the United States, and the world, for that matter, and will take no backward step in the current month.

HIGH STANDARD

GLENDALE'S PLAYHOUSES PRESENT WHOLESOME AMUSEMENTS

Great as the motion picture industry is, it may be said to be still in its infancy. It has before it a future for which one can scarcely predict too much. It has already outgrown the blood-and-thunder story and "the wild and woolly West" romance. Audiences are demanding better stories, and the producers are ready to give the public what it wants—the human interest tale "of old, unhappy, far-off things and battles long ago," stories of "natural sorrows, grief and pain, that have been, and may be again;" the well-constructed scenic picture; the current news in pictures, and most of all, real comedy. This last, the picture people tell us, is hard to get. Ideas for really funny pictures are scarce; yet the world needs them, for real fun is as scarce in the lives of many of earth's children as real comedy ideas are on the screen. Yet the wisdom of a merry heart that doeth good like a medicine is very old, and he who can provoke us to laughter is a greater benefactor than he who invents a new health food.

Since we are "a part of all that we have seen," and since visual instruction is by far the most vivid and makes the deepest, most lasting impression on our minds, it is well that the public has grown tired of the sensational drama. Mr. Shaw, in his address at the opening of the Glendale Theatre last night, emphasized especially the influence of visual instruction on the impressionable minds of children.

Glendale is blessed above some other communities in that the directors of her two picture houses are men of good judgment, who take pride in keeping the standards of their programs up to the best.

People in this community have enjoyed some remarkably fine programs at The Palace Grand, and now that we have also the Glendale Theatre, there is certainly no lack of wholesome entertainment in Glendale. The News predicts for both play houses marked success and the grateful friendship of the ever-increasing population of our city.

Benefit Aviation Ball

A benefit aviation ball is to be given at the Alexandria ball-room in Los Angeles tomorrow evening at $1 a ticket, the proceeds to be given to the widow and child of Lieut. Henry W. Webb, who was a member of the L. A. Fire Department and resigned to go abroad as an aviator. He was killed after the signing of the armistice while flying in his country's service.

POLITICAL TRICK

To the Editor of The Glendale Evening News:

Another despicable and underhanded pre-election trick was perpetrated on business men of Glendale when invitations were circulated Thursday morning by Mr. W. F. Tower to a Randall meeting called at the Glendale postoffice to discuss local postal conditions. These invitations were penned on the back of a business card of Mr. John McGregor, who is and has been a staunch supporter of Mr. Van de Water, Republican candidate for Congress, from this district, and on the back of church cards of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Glendale.

Mr. McGregor's card was used without his permission or knowledge, as he is absolutely opposed to Mr. Randall's candidacy.

The church card was used without the permission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and Mr. Crist, pastor of said church, is absolutely opposed to Mr. Randall's candidacy.

At the meeting at the postoffice Mr. Randall, upon my question, and in the presence of a number of persons assembled, absolutely indorsed Mr. Tower's acts in using the cards above mentioned.

Any candidate whose adherents stoop to such low means of deceit and misrepresentation, and any candidate who indorses such acts is unworthy the consideration of any patriotic and God-fearing American citizens.

We are reminded by this trick of other promises made for political purposes by Mr. Randall on former occasions, particularly pertaining to the present postoffice.

At the meeting Mr. Randall stated that this thing should be done and that thing should be remedied, but he did not promise that he would be personally responsible for the betterment of local postal conditions. Mr. Randall admitted that it had been and doubtless would be impossible for him to obtain through Congress a postoffice for Glendale and suggested that it would be better for Glendale to remain a sub-station of Los Angeles.

I am not surprised that Mr. Randall quit the fight, before he began, as any man who voted against or is paired against the declaration of war against Germany and three other war measures cannot be expected to do much fighting for a postoffice for Glendale.

Hence, Mr. Editor, it appeals to me that any man who misrepresents indirectly or who indorses such mis-

Death of Mrs. Easton

Marie L. Easton of La Crescenta passed away October 28th. The deceased was 58 years old. She is survived by her mother; the husband, Chas. H. Easton; two daughters, Mrs. J. C. Perkins of Montrose and Mrs. Martha L. Cathcart of Los Angeles; and one son, Albert Easton of La Crescenta. Mrs. Easton was born in Switzerland. She belonged to the Eastern Star. Funeral services will be held in the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Co. Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock, Rev. C. R. Norton officiating. Interment will be in Forest Lawn.

A man does not need to go looking for trouble; he can usually start something where he is.

Building in the northeast section, particularly that portion along Kenwood, Jackson, Howard and Isabel above Wilson avenue, is making great strides of late. ## SENATOR JOHNSON

The big issue in this campaign, only second in importance to the success of our Presidential candidate, is the election of the United States Senators. In the forefront of the fight, valiantly battling for Americanism from the inception of the contest, has stood the Republican nominee for United States Senator, Samuel M. Shortridge. Mr. Shortridge possesses an ability second to none; he has the wisdom of statesmanship. When it was neither profitable nor popular, with rare courage he fought the good fight upon this campaign's dominant issue, and endeared himself to those, who in the recent months of stress, have ever had first in mind our own Republic. In fair, unsparring fight he won his nomination. He is entitled to the support of all Republicans, as he has earned the gratitude of all Americans. Our success this year will be incomplete unless we send to the Senate Samuel M. Shortridge.

MCCORMICK HAS SENT ME YOUR TELEGRAM. I HAVE NO HESITANCY IN SAYING THAT THE LEMON GROWING INTERESTS OF CALIFORNIA, INCLUDING THE LABORERS THEREIN, AND INDEED ALL HORTICULTURAL UNDERTAKINGS NEEDING PROTECTION, HAVE NO ASSURANCE OF RELIEF EXCEPT BY CASTING THEIR VOTES FOR REPUBLICAN REPRESENTATIVES TO CONGRESS.

WARREN G. HARDING.

GOVERNOR STEPHENS

The Republican Party believes in a protective tariff policy. The Democratic Party does not. Consequently, it is the duty of California to do its full share in changing the National administration from a low tariff, no tariff administration to a protective tariff administration.

And that we may get all the good possible out of such a change we must send to the Senate of the United States another Republican Senator in the person of Samuel M. Shortridge, who is well qualified to advocate the interests of California at Washington, and also must we increase our Republican membership in the House of Representatives from six to nine.

If you are going to vote for HARDING and COOLIDGE it is not fair to them to vote for a Democratic Senator or Congressman who will antagonize the great Republican legislation of reconstruction necessary during the next four years.

Get-Rich-Quick Schemes

The indictment of the get-rich-quick schemer, Ponzi, is a reminder that these schemes are offered to the thoughtless in other fields than in those of finance. The vocational school or the business college or the commercial course in a high school which pretends to prepare an eighth grade graduate in six months or a year to handle well any subject in its curriculum belongs in the same place with Ponzi. Commercial courses in particular are especially culpable in this respect. The business man of today expects his bookkeeper to be able not only to keep his accounts, to balance his books, to send out statements, but also to write in a legible hand a good business letter comparatively free from the common errors in spelling and punctuation. A stenographer and typist who has not a good knowledge of English grammar and composition can not be expected to make a success of her work. Most of those students of immature years who try to get in a few months or in one or two years a knowledge of commercial subjects without a corresponding knowledge of the fundamentals are merely trying to get a get-rich-quick education.

The commercial world is demanding a great number of workers who possess an education plus a special knowledge and skill in commercial subjects. The demand far exceeds the supply. The only supply available seems to be incompetent. The natural result of incompetence on the part of young pupils who have taken a shorthand course in high school or a business college is the condemnation by the business man of the high school or of the business college as the case may be.

The teaching of stenography, typewriting and elementary bookkeeping is not sufficient to meet the demands of business and commercial life. These institutions are preparing for inferior clerkships. It would seem that the time is ripe for setting up more advanced courses in preparing students for the work in this vocation. Better trained individuals can be obtained by coordinating the work of the school with actual business. Part-time students can arrange for part-time work in the subjects which they are studying. The high school instructor should also be a student of the requirements of the various business houses in which the part-time students are employed.

Personnel departments are rapidly being established in department stores and in other large business houses whose function it is to see that the highest efficiency is obtained from each employee. Some representative of the school which supplies part-time or full-time workers in these various business establishments should make it a fundamental part of his duty to work with this personnel department. The commercial market is flooded with illy prepared immature students. The wheels of industry are clogged by this group of unprepared workers who seek to fill positions requiring the services of experts. There is a royal road to learning but the way is long. A good motor is required as well as plenty of gasoline.

The Countess Ganna Walska, Russian actress, was recently secretly wed in Paris to Alexander Smith Cochran, New York's wealthiest bachelor. She was a great favorite in Petrograd. Her husband, Baron d'Eingorn, a captain in the Russian army, was killed during the war. The countess has played on the American stage. Mr. Cochran is a sportsman with an international reputation. He is said to be worth more than $50,000,000.

Eugene Arceau, French giant, is a recent arrival in New York. He stands eight feet six inches tall, weighs 308 pounds and can lift an ordinary sized man easily. He has not announced as yet what business he will pursue in this country.

It has just been revealed that the recent secret donor of $1,000,000 to the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra is Edward William Bok, one of the millionaire owners of the Ladies' Home Journal and fifty years ago a penniless young emigrant from Holland.

Peter Vidovitch, registered as a charity guest at the New York municipal lodging house, died on a pauper's cot. Then it was discovered that he owned Liberty bonds, jewelry, money, and mining claims totaling $125,000.

Hugh Gibson, American minister to Poland, is planning to return to that country, after a leave of absence in the United States. Mr. Gibson was former secretary of the United States legation in Belgium, where he endeavored to save the life of Edith Cavell, martyred British nurse. He is a western man.

SURGEON GENERAL

MAKES REPORT OF CONDITIONS IN U. S. ARMY DURING THE WAR

The following facts taken from a report of the Surgeon General of the U. S. Army are presented for the consideration of voters by the Christian Science Board:

Surgeon General's Report, 1918, shows one physician to 82 men, about ten times more than the whole country. Refusal operation means court martial.

Death rate, Army, stationed in United States, not in the war zone, 21.93 per one thousand, while that of civil population was 18. Poor showing considering selected class of army.

Approximately 110,000 soldiers on sick list every day; time lost throughout year equaled 40 million days which, at $3 per day, means loss of 120 million dollars. Poor showing considering promises of preventing disease, death, and loss of time to nation.

Failure of Medical Control in Navy just as complete. For instance, influenza and pneumonia death rate among sailors on shore 18.77 per thousand while civil population was only 5.83. (Over three times greater under Medical Control).

Hospital admissions during 1918: Typhoid fever, 768; small-pox, 624; typhoid vaccination, 23,191; small-pox vaccination, 10,830.

Surgeon General's Report, 1918, shows Army death rate about double what civil life was. Also, death rate in Army 1910 to 1917 increased about 25 per cent. Always bear in mind that these results were from selected groups.—The flower of the Nation.

In conclusion it is well to remember that 80% of the parents of California school children are on record in writing as being opposed to vaccination and their wishes are certainly entitled to consideration. We agree fully with the conclusions of Alfred Russel Wallace, L. L. D., R. E. S., English Scientist, whose work on vaccination is entitled, "Vaccination a Delusion: Its Penal Enforcement a Crime, proved by the Official Evidence in the Reports of the Royal Commission."

Sunny's Orchestra

The dances that are being held at K. P. hall by Sunny's orchestra are growing in interest according to those who are attending them. The quality of the music and the cordial treatment which the patrons receive is said to be the cause of the success of these dances. Sunny's orchestra formerly played at the Ship Cafe and Sunset Inn. Sunny himself is a fiddler beyond compare and he is ably assisted by LaRue Hilliker, who plays the saxophone and clarinet, Tom Evans who rattles the ivories in three keys and never uses any music and Eddie Mallard, the jazziest drummer on earth. Preparations are being made for the jolliest Yama Yama and Hallowe'en dance of the season Saturday night.

RICH SOIL

GLENDALE GROUND YIELDS QUICK AND ABUNDANT RETURNS

The man from Central or Northern Illinois will tell you of the wonderful richness of the black soil in those regions, the former dwellers along the rivers of the Middle West will boast of the superior productiveness of the "bottom lands," the Missourian will praise the dozy soil of his native state and the Tennessean just knows that nothing can beat the red loam that there abounds but it is a solid fact that in many parts of Glendale, with proper irrigation and cultivation, bountiful crops can be grown in quicker time than in any of the places named. No finer vegetables or fruits are grown than are raised on some of the vacant lots or back yards of Glendale. No wonder that people flock to this city in such numbers when one thinks of its beautiful surroundings, lovely homes, perfect streets and productive soil.

Single Tax

Yellow placards in some store windows are proclaiming that the single tax amendment number 20 will "ruin California" and should be voted down.

From the bill itself you learn that through successive steps during three years, all kinds of property produced by man, as food, clothing and homes, will become exempt from taxation, and all revenues will be raised from the one kind of property which is insufficiently taxed or man could not hold it out of use for profit: that is, land.

Exempting products of industry from taxation will make them cheaper. To raise all revenue from the value of land will make it cheaper because holders of unused land will begin to let go. With the present clamor for more production and the crying need for homes, how can this "ruin California?"

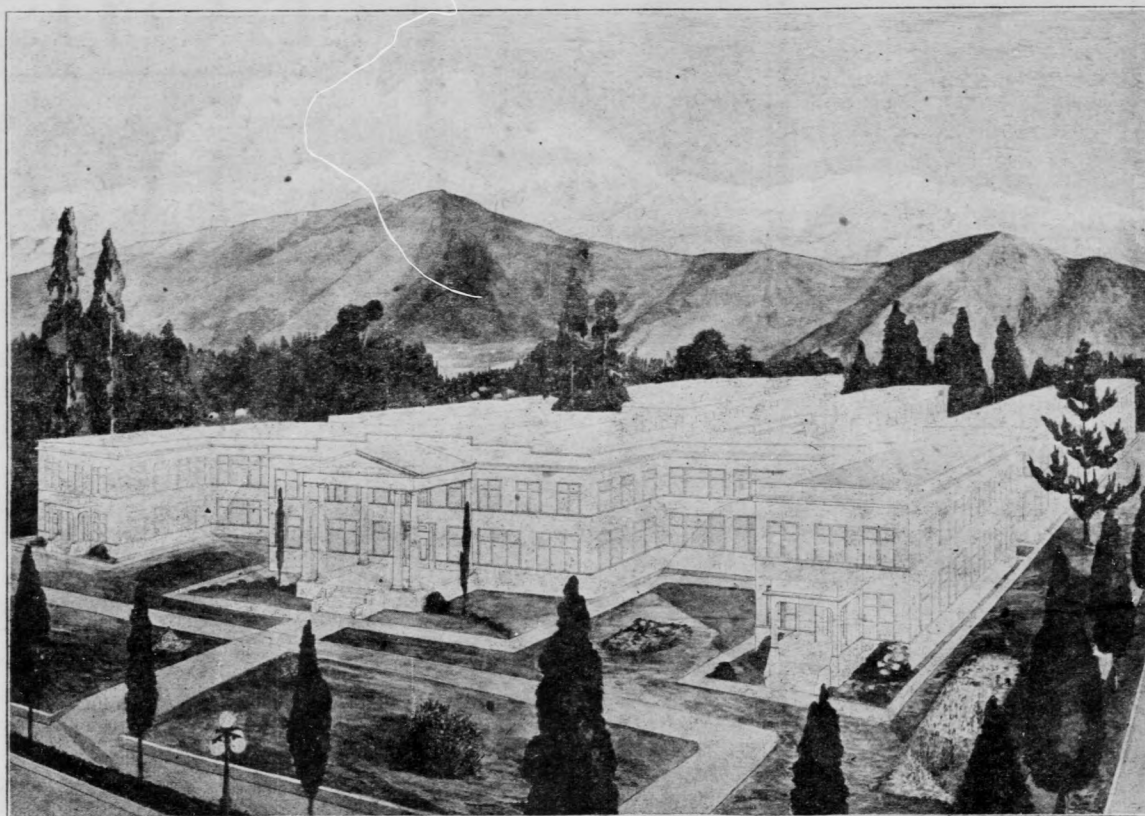

These yellow placard people soft-pedal their real grievance: That number 20 will sadly interfere with the get-rich-without-working business of land-speculation, but loudly proclaim that number 20 would destroy the loan value of land. It might be calamitous for money-lenders not to be able to secure loans on lands at ever-soaring prices, but a far worse calamity than that is when home-seekers are unable to secure land for use. Would California be ruined if land should become so cheap that men might be able to build or to stock their farms without running into debt at all?

Opponents of Number 20 say: "If this bill should carry, nobody would want any land except for use!" Well, why should they?

Vote yes on number 20 and no on number 4 got up to kill number 20.—Adv.

The Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital

New Building of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, the First Unit of Which is About Completed

This institution is founded on the principle that nature alone can cure; that health, like disease, must come gradually by a process of growth and change; that at all times the body is working to maintain health and strength and when pain or disorder appears the proper functioning of the body is being prevented. This we correct and so put the body in a position to heal itself.

Are you tired, ill or sorrowing? Would you come here for treatment or rest? Your case will be given individual attention and nature's own aids to health, air, water, light, heat, electricity and a proper diet will be used to restore you.

Wire Flashes

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 29.—(United Press.)—Last week R. B. Watson, operator of the elevator in the Campanile at the University of California, claimed second place for having covered in ascents and descents a distance of 3,500 miles. The only man who had outdone him, he said, was the operator of the cage in Washington's monument.

Now comes George Coop, pilot of an elevator in the city hall here, who rises to remark that Watson hasn't been anywhere.

Cooper says he has traveled 8000 miles up and down in the last ten years and seven months that he's been jerking the lever of the city hall lift. The Washington monument operator recently passed the 10,000 mile mark.

"I've had a nice trip, anyway," remarks George.

BERKELEY, Oct. 29.—(United Press.)—Americans who are planning to go to China for business are advised by R. T. Evans, lawyer and secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce at Tientsin.

"Wait until after the present financial stringency is over," says Evans, who is visiting friends here. Evans is soon to return to China.

"Business is bad in North China now owing to the depreciation in exchange," he said. "Firms there entered into contracts when money was cheap and by the time the goods were ready for delivery silver had gone up and they simply did not have the money to pay for the goods."

"Politically the Chinese government is in good condition, and if the Japanese do not interfere they will get established without trouble.

"As soon as affairs become more settled there American commerce will be in a good position. American machinery gained a high reputation during the war, and has grown in favor since the war."

SEATTLE, Oct. 29.—(United Press.)—Here's a man who has never seen a football game, nor a man and girl dancing together.

His name is Beni Medhay Misra, and he has just arrived here from India to study journalism at the University of Washington.

Beni is a graduate of the University of Allahabad and was also graduated from Channing college, Lucknow.

Street Cars at Crossings

Most, if not all, cities traversed by street car lines pass ordinances requiring cars to be stopped, either just before reaching a street crossing or just after passing it. It has been suggested and very sensibly it seems to us that the stops be made right on the crossing, so as to block it. Then no vehicles can cross until the cars move on. This would prevent the accidents resulting when impatient drivers, uncertain as to how long the cars will stand, take a chance and cross ahead of them.

Saving of Gasoline

Gasoline conservation to an extent totaling 300,000,000 gallons annually is possible through methods proposed and experimented with by U. S. Bureau of Mines, according to most recent report by chemists of the Bureau. Total value of the gasoline lost annually is estimated at $150,000,000.

This saving is merely the returns from prevention of losses through evaporation which now amount to more than 600,000,000 gallons annually, according to Bureau statistics.

With the country generally quite concerned over the future of the automotive industry and the availability of this source of power, the Bureau's proposal to save such a quantity of gasoline is fully worth much consideration.

The saving is to be accomplished by inauguration of more modern methods of conveyance of the oil from the fields. It is the contention of the Bureau that one-half of the present waste may be saved.

The Bureau says: The worst feature to this loss is the fact that the gasoline wasted is the most volatile and consequently the best quality of gasoline obtainable. It follows that the prevention of this loss, which is economically possible, would not only increase the gasoline supply materially, but would also increase the general standard of the gasoline.

New Billing Machine

A new billing machine has been added to the equipment of the Public Service Department for the making out of the monthly bills for light and water services. It is similar in its action to machines used by the banks, gas companies and the like. The machine, by the manipulation of keys by an operator sets down the previous and current months' meter readings, for light and water, subtracts to get the number of kilowatts or cubic inches used, multiplies this by the rate and sets down the result in dollars and cents. The same entries are made on the ledger. This machine costs over $1500, but it will save its cost in a very few years.

In the Island of Rapa, women outnumber men 7 to 1.

Paris Fashion Note

The New York Herald in the course of a Paris bulletin tells us that Parisian milliners have found a way to utilize the common or kitchen variety of sponge as a trimming for milady's hats, and if models now being displayed in a popular showroom may be taken as an indication of next season's styles, costly ostrich plumes or gold-plated braids will no longer be en vogue.

To a mere man the process of trimming seems to consist of several slices of a well-developed sponge, which are attached to the silky or velour covering of the hat frame by tiny bows of colored ribbon, although for those of more luxurious tastes and well-padded purses real gold braid may be substituted for the cheaper ribbon.

It is estimated that one good-sized sponge, purchased at a bargain counter for perhaps 50 cents, will furnish enough slices to adorn at least two Paris creations, but there still remains some doubt whether there will be a corresponding reduction in the cost of the "bonnets" to the ultimate consumer. However, there is nothing in the French copyright laws to prevent economical housewives taking advantage of this advance tip on next season's styles. "As far as the use of sponge trimming is concerned, only one disadvantage is foreseen. Such hats will be useful only in dry weather."

The disadvantage foreseen by the Herald correspondent is illusory. Evidently he is a "mere man," and therefore lacking in sartorial imagination. For what could be more delightful than a hat that changes its form and dimension in response to the vagaries of the weather? Fancy seeing a hat "swelling wisely," like the Rev. Mr. Stiggins—it was Mr. Stiggins, wasn't it, who "swelled wisely?"—according to what the forecaster calls the precipitation when he means the rain. A sponge hat will have all the charms of variability as well as those of a delicate symbolism. There are a good many of us who think mournfully of sponges when we look at the new headgear of our wives and daughters. —The Argonaut.

Returning home from the dentist's, where he had gone to have a loose tooth drawn, little Raymond reported as follows: "The doctor told me 'fore he began that if I cried or screamed it would cost me a dollar, but if I was a good boy it would be only 50 cents.'" "Did you scream?" his mother asked. "How could I?" answered Raymond. "You only gave me 50 cents."

The wife of a wealthy man had occasion to call in the help of a new floor-polisher. "Do you understand your business thoroughly?" "All I ask, madam, is that you inquire for yourself at my last situation. On the floor of the large drawing-room alone five persons broke their limbs during last winter, and one lady slipped down the grand staircase. It was I who polished the floor and the stairs."

Ruth was fond of apple butter spread on her bread, the thicker the better. Recently she made her first visit to the country. After several days she said to her hostess, "Didn't you have any apples to feed your cows this year?" The puzzled farmer's wife inquired, "Why do you ask that?" "Cause," came the reply, "I don't see any apple butter."

A bank balance is the only thing that will stand checking against.

A lot of persons would get along better if they emulated the gentle clam.

Store Your Labor

The money you earn represents a certain number of hours of labor. Your money is labor in condensed form, convenient to exchange for the products of the labor of others, or to hold in storage for use in later years when your strength fails.

Put away a part of today's work, tomorrow's work, of every day's work now while you have the capacity for earning. Your stored labor will support you in comfort in a few years.

Can you save $1 every day to put in the bank? If so you ought to be doing it. It's a pity to squander the work of these good years.

Education in the Army

In 1919, Congress appropriated a million dollars to be used in the establishment of general and vocational education courses for the enlisted men of the regular army. To this were added certain funds turned over to the army from soldier welfare organizations at the close of the war.

In 1920, Congress appropriated three million dollars to be utilized for such education.

Active instruction began in most of the posts and camps of the army last fall. The program of education now maintained includes instruction in such of the elementary and secondary branches and in such vocations as may be desired by the enlisted men of each of the various posts and camps of the army.

The present army consists of six departments. One of these includes the eight Northwestern states, Alaska and the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands. While the administration of all educational work is handled by commissioned officers, each department of the army employs one or more civilian expert advisors. The Western department is fortunate in having assigned to it Dr. E. G. Dexter who has a national reputation as an educator.

The elementary school subjects are the most popular of the general education courses offered.

Of the vocational subjects, automobile general repair courses are most popular. Automobile electrics and battery work, and vulcanizing and tire repair are also much in demand.

Last week over two thousand young, red-blooded American boys commenced their studies at Annapolis. Practically every county in every state in the Union is represented at the Academy this year, and over one hundred men have been selected from the ranks to train for officers in this great institution.

The above picture of the grounds of the Naval Academy was taken from an airplane and shows the beautiful buildings, the athletic field, the gymnasium (on the extreme left), the Chapel (on the extreme right), and the living quarters in the center of the picture. The quarters, Bancroft Hall, are large enough to mand. Next in interest to the enlisted man appear to be the electrical trades, machine shop, and carpentry and building.

Each post and camp of the army also maintains equipment and employs a large number of skilled mechanics in various trades. They therefore offer unusual opportunities for securing good apprenticeship instruction in a large number of occupations less common than those mentioned above.

The paragraph of the army act making the appropriation states that the purpose of the instruction shall be to prepare the soldier for his duties in the army and for entrance upon a skilled occupation when he leaves the army service.

The plan as conceived in Washington contemplates the turning of the army camps and posts of the country into educational institutions which will have the double function of training men for service as soldiers in the army and for service as citizens in civil life after they have completed the period of army service.

The young man who entered the army of a few years ago spent his three or five years in military training and service which produced a good soldier. However, when he left that service to return to civil life, he found other boys with whom he had grown up already established in skilled occupations, while he was fitted for no special line of work and it became necessary for him to begin where he had left off when he entered the army.

CHILDREN'S RIGHTS

There was a time, even in our supposedly enlightened country, when children were regarded simply as the property of the father. The courts had power to enforce this property right, but they had no power to enforce the duty of the father to the child. Child offenders were regarded by the law as guilty in the same way as adult offenders. They were tried, and, if found guilty, punished in the same way and along with the adult criminal. All this has been changing rapidly.

The Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor has recently published a summary of legislation in behalf of children. Between 1899 and 1919 all but three states in the Union have passed juvenile court laws, and those three states have passed laws dealing with some of the problems generally handled in juvenile courts.

This new legislation usually provides a special court for handling delinquent children. This court looks into the causes for the child's law-breaking. It learns the child's environment, and takes into consideration his parental care—or lack of it—his health and other essential matters. The law recognizes now that every child has a right to a reasonable minimum of care, of decency and of well-being. It has discovered that there is a conflict between the natural impulses of youth and the adverse conditions under which many children are brought up. To all these difficulties, the juvenile court tries to find a constructive solution which will give the child a fair chance in life and set him on the right path to good citizenship and a happy, normal development.

There is still a long way to go in this work. The schools have to meet the problem of the delinquent child in their care. There is room, too, for further improvement in child labor laws, in probation work and health supervision. These things will surely come, however, and the progress that has been made along these lines in recent years gives good promise of the hopeful future.

To the End of the Earth From Annapolis

accommodate over two thousand "middies" without crowding. The rooms, containing two men each, are commodious and light, and all have showers.

While the course at Annapolis is a strenuous one, it nevertheless fits our young Naval Officers to take their places among the best educated men of the world. And it may be said that his education is yet in its infancy when he finally graduates from this famous school. Travel is education, this cannot be denied, and although the young officer has made three summer cruises when he graduates, his travels have only commenced; for after getting out into the service he goes over the entire world.

Each year 100 enlisted men are given the chance of entering the Naval Academy. The highest honor ever attained by a midshipman graduating from the Academy was bestowed upon Wesley McL. Hague, an ex-enlisted man of the Navy. The men entering the institution from the ranks of the Navy bring to the other students an atmosphere of ship life; together with a certain amount of romance and a greater knowledge of what the service offers to the American youth today.

Socialists Expect Gains

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—All indications are that the Socialist vote to be cast for Eugene V. Debs next Tuesday will show a big increase over four years ago.

The Socialist leaders claim that this expected increase will be due to the imprisonment of the Socialist candidate, the high cost of living, agitation over profiteering, federal control under war regulations and radical labor agitation.

Socialist editors have made forecasts of that party's vote all the way from one to five millions.

William M. Ferguson of the New Day Socialist World, Chicago, predicts at least 2,000,000 votes for Debs.

The vote estimated by W. F. Dunn, editor of the Bulletin, (Socialist) Butte, Mont., is 2,000,000.

Charles W. Erwin, publisher of the New York Call, estimates the Socialist vote at between two and three millions. He said the Socialists expected to carry four Congressional districts, sure, and possibly five. Two of these are in New York City.

BIG BALLOT

California is not the only state with a ballot so large as to be burdensome. In Illinois the ticket to be voted is 25x38 inches, has the candidates of 13 political parties or groups on it and a number of legal measures. In this state the 20 amendments, referendum and initiatory measures are puzzling to most of the voters and consequently many of them will not have a fair test. Many people will vote no on some of these measures, thinking to vote yes, and vice versa. A careful study each in the pamphlet of information sent out with your sample ballot, should be made by every voter. Arguments on both sides of each measure are given in this pamphlet and the meaning of a yes and no vote stated. The small ticket enclosed with the sample ballot should be preserved also, and consulted as it gives the number and location of your polling place, of which there are 22 in Glendale. Only one has been changed from the August 31st location and that is No. 10, which was on North Louise then, above the Wash, and will be in Mr. Guthrie's real estate office next Tuesday.

Lieut. Meyer Memorial

A. Meyer informed the Evening News that he does not know yet when the body of his son, Lieut. Lester Meyer, killed in France while flying for his country, will arrive in Glendale. Funeral arrangements are being made, however, and it is known that the Elks will have charge of the memorial service and Rev. Edmonds will deliver the funeral address. Further announcement will be made later.

Health Is Possible!

Chi-ro-prac-tic takes off the brakes. Nerve pressure prevents the flow of vital force. Chi-ro-prac-tic takes away the cause—Nature then produces the desired effect. Whenever vital organs work badly or you have so-called trouble with your heart, lungs, bronchial tubes, stomach, liver, kidneys, intestines, bladder, uterus, etc., Chi-ro-prac-tic has shown that the spine or back-bone is almost invariably at fault. The proof lies in the thousands of cases successfully handled by Chi-ro-prac-tic.

AFFECTIONS OF any of the following parts may be caused by nerves impinged at the spine by a subluxated vertebra.

Christmas Gifts

Armstrong Perry suggests some gifts that a scout may make for Christmas in an article in the October issue of Boys' Life:

For older folks, especially city relatives, a quart of nuts or a box of holly, mistletoe, or evergreens, gathered by a scout, are better than anything his money can buy. A few little Christmas touches on the box and a hand-decorated, hand-written card of greeting will keep them talking about it for years to come. As years go by, expensive gifts lose their charm, but the kind thought and action of the distant friend increase in value.

The scout of your own age might like a set of weather signal flags. Probably he has a wireless receiving set and knows what the weather is going to be, several hours before the neighbors. If not, he can get the forecast from the morning paper. Better yet, he can learn to forecast it himself by using the rules in the Boy Scout handbook. He can do a community good turn and acquire quite a reputation by displaying the weather flags where they can be seen by the neighbors before they dress to go out.

They are made of bunting or other light, durable cloth, from twelve to eighteen inches square. You might find just what you wanted by rummaging in the rag bag. Wash the stuff first, if it needs it. Get some red, blue and black dye. It comes in the form of soap now and it is as easy to dye as to wash.

The clear weather flag is white. For rain or snow, blue is used. A black triangular flag shows warmer temperature if displayed above one of the others, and colder if hung below. A cold wave is indicated by a square of black in the center of a square white flag. A square flag with the upper half white and the lower half blue means local rain or snow.

Violent storms are indicated by a red center in a square white flag. A triangular red pennant means northeast winds if displayed above the storm flag and southeast winds if hung below. A triangular white pennant above the storm flag means northwest winds. If below the storm flags, it means southwest winds.

Several flags may be used in combination. For example, the black triangular, with a white square flag below, and the blue rain or snow flag below, that means warmer temperature and fair weather followed by rain or snow.

The flags may be labelled and—

STATEMENT CONCERNING AMENDMENT NO. 9

By N. D. DARLINGTON
Chairman, California Highway Commission

The importance of the proposed Constitutional Amendment, appearing as No. 9 on the ballot, which was carefully drawn by the Attorney General's office and which makes it possible to change the rate of interest on the State highway bonds in order that they may be marketed, can hardly be overstated.

It provides for the creation of a finance committee composed of the Governor, the State Treasurer, the State Controller, the Chairman of the Board of Control and the Chairman of the Highway Commission, and empowers this committee to fix the rate of interest from time to time as it becomes necessary to sell bonds, in order to carry on the highway work, at a figure which will make them salable. This will give a measure of flexibility which is absolutely essential in view of changing financial conditions.

Although the Amendment provides for a maximum rate of 6 per cent it is improbable that it will ever become necessary to fix the rate at this maximum figure.

Today the bonds could be sold on about a 5 1-4 per cent basis and if in the future, market conditions should improve so as to make it possible to sell our bonds at a rate of interest lower than that which they now bear, which is 4 1-2 per cent, this proposed Amendment will enable the State to take advantage of the lower rate, whatever it may be.

It will also provide a more equitable way of taking care of the interest on the bonds, thus relieving the Counties of a charge which has become burdensome in many instances.

While the Commission does not feel it to be in line with good business policy to attempt to carry forward at this time and under present conditions, a full program of construction, they believe, nevertheless, that work on the most important highways should continue without interruption.

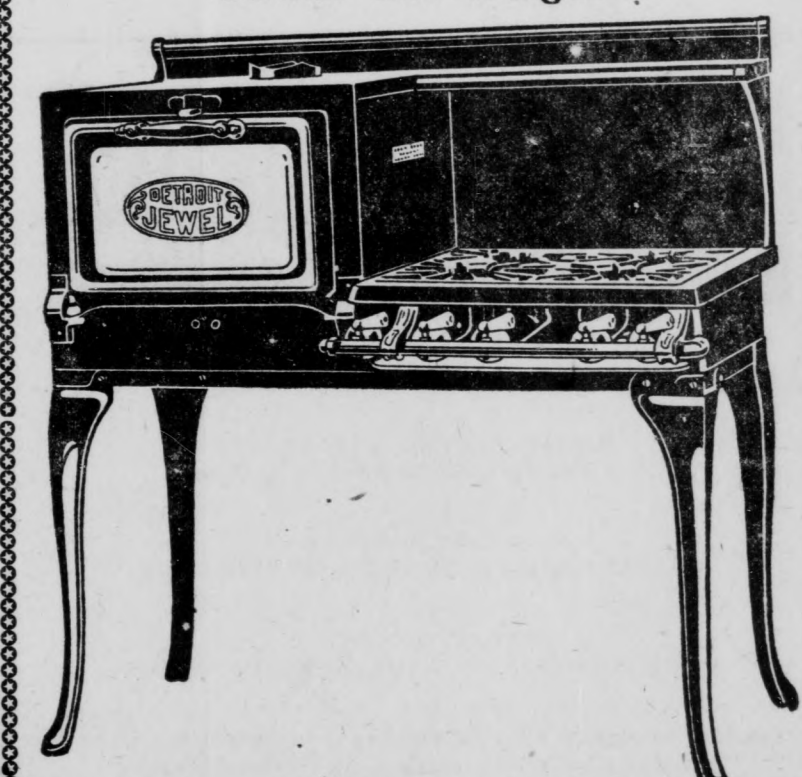

Improved highways have become an essential factor in our economic development and our progress along this line must keep pace with our general agricultural and industrial growth and expansion.

If the proposed amendment does not carry, it will be necessary to at once stop work until such time as the present bonds could be sold, which would be for an indefinite period, possibly years.

This would mean the disorganization of our present highway forces with the large consequent loss to the State which would inevitably result.

(Signed) N. D. DARLINGTON, Chairman, California Highway Commission.
